Confidentiality: In addition to the University of Northern Colorado policies, this course, as other courses in the Counseling Program, requires that learners maintain absolute confidentiality regarding all personal information related by classmates and clients. The information we discuss in class or supervision is not to be discussed outside of our class and then only as it pertains to helping a classmate or client. Any breach of confidentiality or respect will be considered a serious ethical and professional violation and will result in immediate dismissal from the program. Confidentiality as evidenced in the current ACA codes will be followed

Attendance Policies

Attendance is paramount to the experiential learning of this material; therefore, it should be considered a priority in successful completion of the course. Missing five hours or more of class will result failure of the class and a need to retake it. Missing significant portions of time less than four hours will result in corresponding deductions from your grade. For example, missing three hours of class will result in the loss of a letter grade. A final letter grade is based on total points accumulated from each of the elements listed below, (weighted proportionally as noted) as a percentage of the total class points available:

A 93-100	C 73-76
A- 90-92	C- 70-72
B+ 87-89	D+ 67-69
B 83-86	D 63-66
B- 80-82	D- 60-62
C+ 77-79	F Below 60

Course Requirements: Students will be expected to maximize opportunities to expand both knowledge base and practice skills in addictions. Activities will be designed to facilitate the understanding and intervention with addictions issues. Students will be expected to participate in class discussions and complete written and reading assignments.

Course Assignments:

1. Attendance and Participation (40 points):

Graduate students are expected to be responsible for regular and punctual class attendance. Because theory may only become useful to the extent that it is put into practice, students are expected to participate fully in class discussions and in class activities. All students will be involved in classroom learning, role-plays and experiential exercises and should be prepared to participate in discussions and activities. Please note that attendance is mandatory. Participation also involves meaningful engagement with our discussions in class. Please email me if you feel that this may be a problem. Finding a way to make this class an enriching learning opportunity is our responsibility together. I ask that you come to class prepared by having read and reflected on the reading assignments.

If at any time you find it difficult to utilize our time together for your benefit, I invite you to discuss it with me so that we can improve the experience and make it worth our effort and time. Active participation is essential, and your participation grade will be evaluated in the following way:

- Excellent (80-100%) – Proactive participation: leading, originating, informing, challenging contributions that reflect in-depth study, thought, and analysis of the topic under consideration as well as a demonstrated ability to listen to and build upon the ideas of others.
- Satisfactory (70-79%) – Reactive participation: supportive, follow-up contributions that are relevant and of value, but rely on the leadership and study of others, or reflect opinion rather than study, thought, and contemplation.
- Minimally Acceptable (50-69%) – Passive participation: present, awake, alert, attentive, but not actively involved.
- Unsatisfactory (49% or less) – Uninvolved: absent, present but not attentive.

2. Change-Behavior and Video Journal (40 points): Due Friday December 6th at 4:00 pm

The process of change is challenging for clients, particularly when substance use or behavioral addictions are involved. The goal of this assignment is NOT in any way an attempt to mirror the process of having an addiction and making change with an addiction. The purpose is to have an experiential connection to the processes and challenges of change and the impact of self-monitoring, motivation, awareness, and others.

Each student shall choose a substance or behavior change they wish to commit to and shall keep a daily video journal (via Google Slides) of struggles, challenges, successes, thoughts, feelings, and behaviors. This requires 2 weeks of journal entries. This change-behavior can include diverse choices such as giving up a substance (nicotine, alcohol, caffeine, sugar, fast food, etc.) or a behavior (TV, Internet games, social media, text messaging). There will be time set aside in class to do a group discussion of the change behavior experiences. This project will start at 4 pm, Friday, November 22nd and will end at 4 pm Friday, December 6th. You will need to email me your change behavior by noon on November 22nd.

Your change behavior journal will be turned in on Canvas by the beginning of class

Evaluation Criteria for this assignment include completing the journal writing, demonstrating a genuine effort to engage in a meaningful change, and indicating application of the experience to the knowledge and content focus of the class, application to work with clients, and impact on the self.

3. Group Collage Case Study Project (40 points) Due Dec. 8th, presented in class

You will work in groups of 3 – 4 people and be given a case study to work with. This case study will be of a counseling client with an addiction and several other intersecting identities and challenges. The final project will be a digital collage consisting primarily of pictures, art, music, poetry, and other creative medium (written non-artistic text should be limited) that will address:

- 1) Facts about the substance the client is addicted to
- 2) Advocacy for the client's particular needs (could be support for parenting, work/vocation, education, housing, community, food, etc.) including specific resources.
- 3) Counseling strategies to address trauma and other potential diagnoses
- 4) Support for the client's family/chosen family/partner/children as related to the case

*More details and specific case studies will be provided during the first evening of class.

4. Immersion Activity (40 points): Due Friday, December 6th, 3:00 pm.

Option A: Experiential meeting attendance and movie project. For this option you can choose the perspective of a person with an addiction or the perspective of a family member/partner of a person with an addiction.

- 1) Attend one 12-Step meeting
- 2) Watch one of the suggested movies (a list will be provided the first day of class)
- 3) Write a 5 – 7 page reflection paper answering specific questions about the meeting and the movie (these will be provided the first day of class)

Information about meeting attendance: For this part you will choose an “Open” 12-Step meeting for the perspective of the person with an addiction (AA, NA, OA) or from the family/partner of a person with an addiction (Alanon, ACOA). Resources for meetings will be available on Canvas. As a reminder, all meetings are “Closed” meetings unless indicated with an O (open) or otherwise indicate that they are open. Only attend open meetings for this course requirement, and there are many options for virtual and phone meetings if you do not feel comfortable attending in person. Please know that AA supports community members and people who are not alcoholics attending open meetings as observers and Advocates for Recovery stated that all of their meetings are open and welcoming.

Note: This paper is a reflection based upon your experiences thus it will be written in 1st person perspective and does not need to include references or in-text citations. It needs to be graduate level writing and in APA format, however, there does not need to be a title or reference page.

Option B: Recovery Interview Due Friday, December 6th, 3:00 pm

As part of your class requirements, you have the option to interview an individual who is in recovery or a person who has been affected by another in recovery. For this assignment, it is important that you maintain confidentiality for the individual you are interviewing. This means that you will use a pseudonym and remove any identifying information. You will need to prepare a list of questions that you will bring to your interview. Here are some ideas to help you create your own questions:

- How have addictions played a role in your life?
- Discuss the emotions that have arisen during your time (or others) in recovery

- What are some of the biggest challenges in recovery?
- What did you learn about yourself throughout this process?
- What is your wellness plan?

Again, these are simply suggestions. You are required to email me your questions prior to completing the interview. The final day that I will accept interview questions is on Tuesday, November 26th. This paper should be 8 – 10 pages and written in APA format. Please include a title and reference page (an abstract is not required).

To receive full credit for this assignment you will need to be reflective throughout AND apply what we have learned in class to your interview. This should not be simply a transcript of the interview, but rather summarize the interview and apply key concepts from class. You should include 2 – 4 references (the text, research articles) to help support your application of the concepts from class. Think about levels of care that we have learned about in class and how that might apply to your interviewee's experience with treatment. Does your interviewee meet or not meet diagnostic criteria for substance use disorder? What sort of support groups or treatment options were most beneficial for your client? These are just a few examples of things you will want to consider when writing your interview paper.

5. Final Exam, Sunday, (40 points) December 8th

An online final exam will be given during the last day of class. This cumulative and comprehensive exam will consist of multiple-choice questions and short essay questions.

Grading Standards:

• Attendance and participation	40 points
• Change Behavior and Journal	40 points
• Substance Presentation	40 points
• Immersion Activity	40 points
• Final Exam	40 points
Total points	200 points

Additional Information

PowerPoint Presentations: PowerPoint presentations used in class are for instructional purposes only and will not be released to the students for personal use.

Professional Conduct: Students are expected to adhere to the appropriate code of ethics for their particular program. Any behavior deemed unethical will be grounds for failure of the course and/or grounds for dismissal from the program.

Portable Electronic Devices: Please extend courtesy to your instructor and fellow students by having your portable electronic devices on silent mode. Dr. S assumes that you will be making every effort to be as fully present in class as possible and that you will limit distractions of any kind during class. If you know that you may need to accept an emergency phone call during class please let the instructor know, and if you need to take a phone call during class, please step out of the classroom while you complete your call.

Disability Resources

It is the policy and practice of the University of Northern Colorado to create inclusive learning environments. If there are aspects of the instruction or design of this course that present barriers to students' inclusion or to accurate assessments of students' achievement (e.g. inaccessible web content, use of videos without captions), students should communicate about these aspects with their instructor(s).

Additionally, if you have a temporary health condition or a permanent disability that requires accommodations, contact the Disability Resource Center (DRC) as soon as possible. DRC facilitates the interactive process that establishes reasonable accommodations.

Office: (970) 351-2289, Michener Library L-80.

Title IX

The University of Northern Colorado is committed to providing a safe learning environment for all students that is free of all forms of discrimination and sexual harassment, including sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking. Students who have experienced (or who know someone who has experienced) any of these incidents should know that they are not alone. UNC has staff members trained to support students to navigate campus life, to access health and counseling services, to provide academic and housing accommodations, to help with legal protective orders, and more.

Please be aware all UNC instructors and most staff members are required to report their awareness of sexual violence to the Office of Institutional Equity and Compliance (OIEC). This means that if students tell an instructor about a situation involving sexual harassment, sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, or stalking, the instructor must share that information with the Title IX Coordinator, Larry Loftin. Larry or a trained staff member in OIEC will contact the reporting students to let them know about accommodations and support services at UNC as well as their options to pursue a process to hold accountable the person who caused the harm to them. Students who have experienced these situations are not required to speak with OIEC staff regarding the incident. Students' participation in OIEC processes are entirely voluntary.

If students do not want the Title IX Coordinator notified, instead of disclosing this information to the instructor, students can speak confidentially with the following people on campus and in the community. They can connect you with support services and help explore options now, or in the future.

Academic Integrity

Students are expected to practice academic honesty in every aspect of this course. Students who engage in academic misconduct are subject to grading consequences with regard to this course and/or university disciplinary procedures through the Student Conduct and Accountability. More information about the academic misconduct process can be found in UNC's Student Code of Conduct (BEAR Code).

Attendance

Students are expected to attend class regularly. Each instructor determines the relationship between class attendance, the objectives of the class, and students' grades. Instructors are responsible for articulating their attendance policies and their effect on grades to students. Students are responsible for knowing the attendance policy of each course. Only the instructor can approve students' absences. Students are responsible for requesting such approval. In an effort to create inclusive learning environments, instructors should not require doctors' notes to determine whether or not to excuse an absence.

COVID-19

The COVID-19 pandemic is a complex, challenging, and fluid situation, which continues to evolve. UNC will follow applicable legal requirements and public health mandates, and evaluate federal, state, and county public health recommendations in all decisions related to university operations. Students should review the Coronavirus website for the current academic term for the most up to date guidance. Students who fail to comply with any public health requirements that UNC puts in place, such as the use of masks and social distancing, will be reminded of current policy; students who fail to correct their behavior will be asked to leave the classroom and may be referred to the Student Conduct and Accountability. The safety and well-being of our Community of Bears requires each of us to be prepared to do our part to protect the health of our entire campus community, as well as our friends, families, and neighbors. It is important that all members of the university community work together to do all we can to keep our community safe.

Equity and Inclusion

The University of Northern Colorado (UNC) embraces the diversity of students, faculty, and staff. UNC honors the inherent dignity of each individual, and welcomes their unique perspectives, behaviors, and world views. People of all races, religions, national origins, sexual orientations, ethnicities, genders and gender identities, cognitive, physical, and behavioral abilities, socioeconomic backgrounds, regions, immigrant statuses, military or veteran statuses, sizes and/or shapes are strongly encouraged to share their rich array of perspectives and experiences. Course content and campus discussions will heighten your awareness of others' individual and intersecting identities. For information or resources, contact the Division of Diversity, Equity and Inclusion, at 970-351-1944. If students want to report an incident related to identity-based discrimination/harassment, please visit www.unco.edu/institutional-equity-compliance.

Food Insecurity

Knowing that food insecurity is experienced at higher rates among college students, UNC offers assistance to students facing food insecurity through an on-campus food pantry. The Bear Pantry is located in University Center 2166A and is open for regular hours throughout the semester. Please visit www.unco.edu/bear-pantry for more information.

Land Acknowledgment

The University of Northern Colorado occupies the lands in the territories of the Ute, Cheyenne, Lakota and Arapaho peoples. The University acknowledges the 48 tribes that are historically tied to the state of Colorado. Thus, the land on which UNC is situated is tied to the history and culture of our native and indigenous peoples. UNC appreciates this connection and has great respect for this land. Additionally, the University community pays its respect to Elders past, present, and future, and to those who have stewarded this land throughout the generations.

As part of the learning and reflection process please visit <https://native-land.ca/> or call the Office of Equity & Inclusion at 970-351-1944.

Name in Use/Pronoun in Use/Name Change

Some students may have changed their names to better reflect their gender identity or for other reasons. The process to request that the University change the name that appears on Canvas and on the course roster is available here: <https://www.unco.edu/registrar/name-change.aspx>

Writing Center

The Writing Center offers three kinds of sessions to meet your writing needs: In-Person, Email, and Zoom Sessions. Trained Writing Center Consultants can assist you with writing assignments from any course or subject. Even if you think your writing is pretty good, it's always nice to have another reader look over your work. To guarantee a session time, make an appointment using our online scheduling system by visiting our website (below). We also have walk-in session times available during our scheduled open hours, Monday – Friday 9:00 am – 4:00 pm in the Writing Center, Ross Hall 1230 as well as walk-in sessions in the library (first floor) Monday – Thursday evenings, 5:00 pm – 8:00 pm.

If your instructor requires you to visit the Writing Center, make sure to alert your Consultant, and/or check the box on the appointment form, and we will send an email confirmation of your session to your instructor. For more information, email the Writing Center at writingcenter@unco.edu or visit the website: www.unco.edu/writing-center.
